

From the City of Lompoc Web Site
Created and Maintained by City of Lompoc
Information Services Division

A very special thanks to the Lompoc Valley Historical Society and all the good folks for sharing their photo archives with us.

<http://www.ci.lompoc.ca.us/>

Old Lompoc Schools

In the foreground the Civic Auditorium currently located at the 200 block of South "L", built in 1932 with the old High School in the background.

Lompoc Grammar School in 1886. It was built in the late 1870's and demolished in 1922. It was located at Chestnut and "H" St.

This picture is taken facing Northwest looking from Hickory and "L" St. The Junior High School in the foreground and the High School in the background.

An archive photo of the Civic Auditorium dated 1966, when it was given to the city.

The new Lompoc Grammar School in 1930. It was demolished in 1968 and El Camino School was built. This was also located at "H" St. and Chestnut.

Lompoc Union High School, Lompoc, Cal.

A post card rendering of the first Lompoc High School. It cost one cent to send this post card.

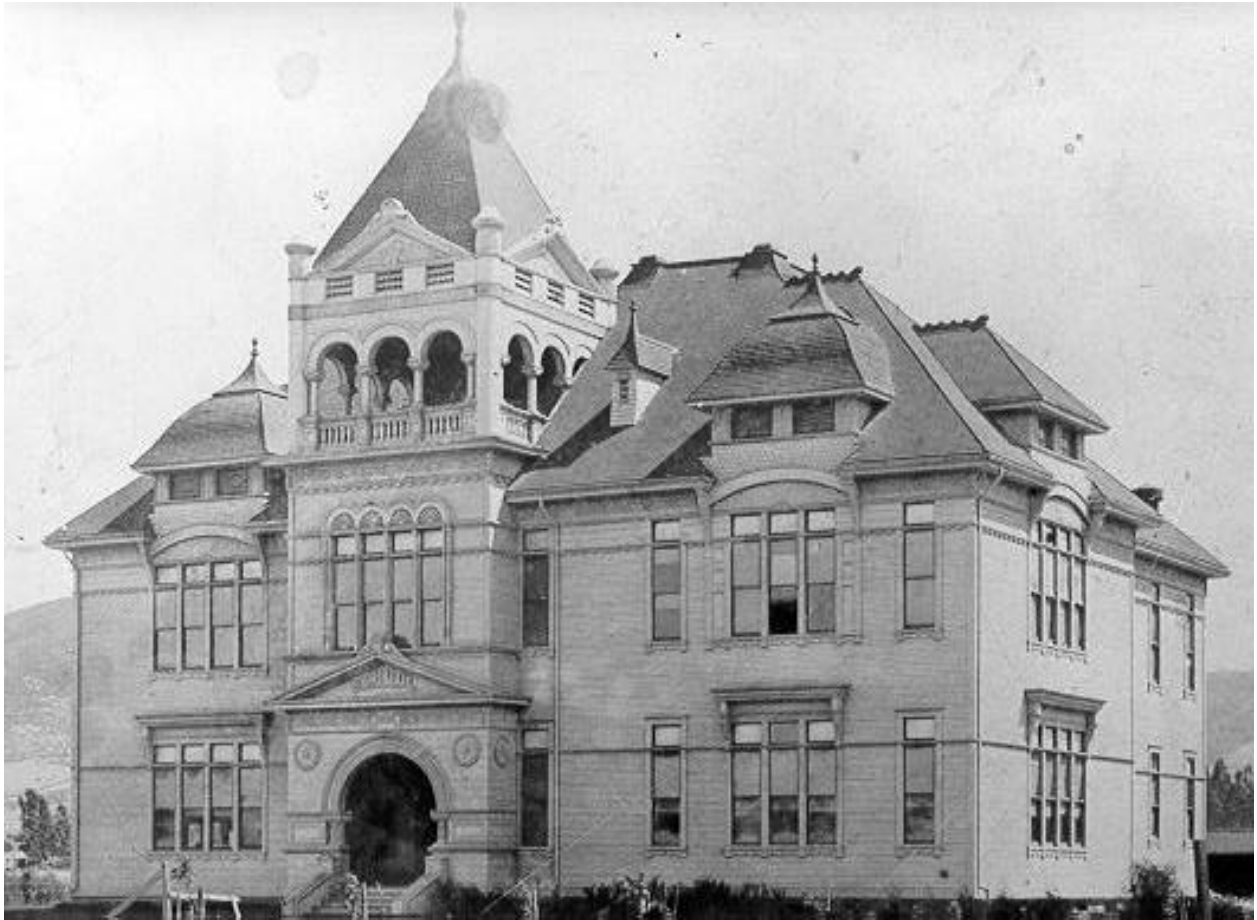

A picture looking North from Olive Ave. at the first Lompoc High School Baseball Field and Industrial Arts Building.

Clint Winans and his school bus.

Lompoc Grammar School on the right built in the late 1870's and Industrial School built in 1911.

The first Lompoc High School in 1896. This was located at "L" St. and Cypress where the parking lot for Lompoc Valley Middle School is currently located.